

National Claims Recovery, LLC

183 Maggie Kate Ct. Wentzville, MO 63385

Who is National Claims Recovery:

Over the last several years, builders installed defective hardboard siding and roofing products on millions of homes. Class-action suits were filed and settled against the manufactures because of the premature breakdown of their products. These materials were manufactured by companies such as Masonite, Weyerhaeuser, Abitibi, Forestex, Omniwood and Woodruff roofing. Many property owners are unaware their properties may qualify under these class-action settlements.

National Claims Recovery was created in June 2001 to educate and assist property owners with these class-action settlements. National Claims Recovery has acted on the behalf of thousands of residential and commercial property owners nationwide recovering millions of dollars in settlements. We manage every aspect of the difficult and time consuming process, ensuring the settlement is fair and accurate.

National Claims Recovery will file the claim on your behalf. Our fees are based solely on a percentage of the settlement recovered. We do not get paid unless you receive a settlement.
